OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF

THE ELONGATED COLLECTORS

VOLUME XXII No. 1 Jan, Feb, March 1987

from the
PRESIDENT'S DESK

The officers of T.E.C. wishes you all a very prosperous and Happy New Year. I consider our first year in office was a success because we started with 180 paid up members and finished our first year with 239 paid up members. Thanks to all the officers and members who helped us to do this. I'm sorry that we have 48 members who did not pay there 1986 dues and some of these were old low number members. Please remember that your 1987 Dues are now due and if not paid by March 31st, 1987 you cannot nominate or vote on the new slate of officers that will be taking the chairs this coming August at the T.E.C. meeting at the A.N.A. Covention in Atlanta, Ga. Also remember that there will be no write in votes this year. If there is no nomination for an office then the president has the responsibility of submitting members names to the board to be elected for a two year term. On your next Newsletter you will be asked to nominate whomever you choose for your officers for next two years. Please ask the person you nominate to see if they will take the job and make sure there dues have been paid for 1987 or there nomination will not count.

Keep those articles coming to the Editor. This month we have quite a lot of good information on Unlisted Elongated Coins. Do you have any that are Not Listed in Martin-Dow Book. If so let the other members know what you have and maybe we can find out something about these unlisted coins. Things like this add more information to the hobby and give our members a reason for belonging to our club. Send in those articles. Do it now!! We want to send a full 20 page Newsletter each time unless we have an extra Elongated, like last issue, then we would rather give you and extra FREE Elongated Coin. Hope you enjoyed your early Christmas present and thanks to Don Wilkinson of Metairie, LA. for sending them to our Editor so we could give them out to our members. Also thanks to Roy Fowler for sending his Elongated to pass out to members also. A lot of good people in T.E.C. Feel free to drop me a line any time and I'll try to answer your questions if at all possible. Keep up the good work of getting those new members. I just love to roll those Membership Elongateds. We love you all, Take care and be careful.

Chet.

New Unlisted Elongated Show up in a Collection

A few weeks ago I was lucky enough to pick up a large collection of Elongated Cents do to a friend of mine being in the right place at the right time. When I was running my Coin Shop I use to take a quick trip up to Silvertown Coin Dealer at Winchester, In. to pick up Silver Bullion or Gold for customers. This is a big dealership that buys and sell in volume. There was times we would be there when they had just gotten large collections of tokens, medals, encased cents in aluminun, which I collect, or even Elongated coins. One day I was lucky enough to pick up a complete set of the Don Adams- Elongated Type Series mounted in the special fold out book with 3 pages that hold 12 coins per page. Well, this time there was a lot of 300 assorted Elongated coins, many old Worlds Fair, 1933-34 Chicago and 1939 New York, even a few scarce ones but the ones that were unusual were 4 that I knew I did not have in my collection. One was a OHIO State Fair, 1946, another was a 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, and 2 newer ones that were rolled at the 1964-65 New York Worlds Fair. One has a large tower or building with what looks like a round moon at the top the words Fabulous- Florida, New York Worlds Fair, 1964-1965 and a fancy rope border. The other is a Bust of President John F. Kennedy in the middle of the coin and is engraved so deep that the Head is not completely full as there is not enough metal to push into the die, I Guess, to fill it. The word "President" above the head and the words "John F. Kennedy" below the head. Again this has a fancy rope border just like the other Worlds Fair die. I have been told by one in the know that both of these was rolled at the Worlds Fair. Both dies have the fancy border and look like they may be pantograph engraved dies as they are really nice. I am not an artist but will try to draw a picture of each of these 4 dies below and if any of you out there have any information about any of these elongateds I would like to hear from you. I have several of each and don't know what to price them but will sell one of each at the level one of Martin-Dow Book at $3.00 each. Limit one of each to a person while they last. I put one of each in my collection so don't need all these extras. Will try to get the rest sorted out and list them later. Write: Frank Brazzell, 53 So. 20th St. Terre Haute, IN. 47803 Rough pictures below of the 4 different elongateds.

I Hope these above rough drawings can give you some idea of what the coins will look like. Due to the small letters on the Golden Gate die and the New York Die I had to go outside the border to get all the words on but hope you can tell what I mean. Do any of you have any of these 4 dies. I do not find them listed in the Martin-Dow book. Out of the 300 assorted coins there were several of each of these so there must be several around. The New York fair was over 20 years ago so some of these coins should be coming out from estates when people die and things are sold off. Dealers get a lot of old coins, tokens, medals that way. I would think the 1939 Golden Gate Expo and the 1946 Ohio Fair would be more scarce but don't have any information on either. Someone help. Let me know if you have one in your collection.

The officers of T.E.C. would like to welcome all these new members and hope you will find this hobby a rewarding one. If anyone needs application blanks to take to coin shows or coin club meetings please drop the Editor a note and he will be glad to send you 10, 25, 50 100 or whatever you need. Please feel free to pass them out and help the club get new members and help Elongated Collecting grow. It's a fine hobby. New and interesting unlisted issues turn up all the time. Write an article on what you have. Check the Martin-Dow book and see if your oldies are in there. You might get a surprise and find yours is not listed. How rare is it?? How many are around?? These are things we hope this club can answer. Someone can help. Write an article on what got you started collecting Elongateds. Let your fellow club member know of your new finds at Coin Clubs, Coin Shows, or Flea markets, or in old hordes of odds and ends you pick up now and then. Send your articles to the Newsletter editor for next issue.

Stretching your pennies

Jack Rosenbooth, of York, displays an elongated penny that was available as a memento of the White Rose Coin Club's 18th annual show Sunday at Holiday Inn on Route 30. Rosenbooth makes the elongated coins using a penny and a machine that dates back to 1893. He also made the die that is used to inscribe the coin. The machine was used for commemorations and advertising. The penny is still legal tender, even though it has been elongated.

Why do I collect those crazy, beat up, squashed out elongated coins? Early-on in my collecting career, as with most other young collectors of that period, I started collecting Lincoln Cents. Most came out of circulated pocket change, with a few coming from the local bank. Stymied by the prices of some of the rarer and scarcer dates and/of mint marks, I searched for another collecting interest. Settled on U.S. mint errors, and proceeded to fill numerous albums with the more common pieces. Once again, pricing proved to be my nemesis, so sold out to one of my sons. Searching around again, for a more reasonable price range hobby, I jumped on the encased band wagon. Once again, with many albums full, and with them being stamped out by the literal hundreds; coming out of Indiana, I grew bored with it, and sold out completely. Now, I branched out into wooden nickels, dollars, and flats. Many, many albums full later, once again I became bored, just about the time some individual sent me a free gift with an order of wooden nickels. Yeah, you guessed it, an elongated cent of the 1939-40 New York Worlds' Fair. You might say I was hooked and intrigued at the same time. Immediately sold out of the albums of wood, and started my never ending search for the elusive elongated coins. Now, many years later, with well over 10,000 issues in my personal collection, I find my interest still to be maintained, especially when a new "modern" shows up, or an occasional "oldie" I don't have, or an "Unlisted" issue is offered to me. I still keep my original Lincoln Cent collection, complete and up to date, to hand down, but elongateds are my true love.

NEGLECTED ELONGATED COLLECTOR INTERESTS

During my many years of collecting, buying, trading, and selling elongated coins, I have noted three major areas of neglect by collectors.

#1 is the Coin Club and Coin Show related issues. The fun starts in attempting to put together a complete date series, to include the various denominations. Many issues, of a given date, were given only to members, as admittance gate tickets, and there-in lies the challenge.

#2 would be Christmas issues, dated and non-dated, as well as other Holiday related issues. Again, complete yearly series and denominations come in to play. Many of those which are non-dated could be attached to one's outgoing holiday greeting cards, adding to the recipients' interest. Think about it!

#3 could well be engraver and rollers' errors, and they do make them. A nice addition to one's personal collection, is to have an error elongate placed along side of a corrected issue, ie. dates, places, or just spelling. Also, along this particular line, goes long or exceedingly short roll outs, off-center, and/or incomplete or improper placement of the engraved image. All of these factors, also, hold true for various denominations and metals. Try it!

The More the Merrier ----- by Jack Rosenbluth TEC# 752

As a numismatic collector for many, many years and enjoying the hobby to the greatest extent, I found the flavor fading as times had reached the point that you could no longer keep anything at home to enjoy. Everything had to be locked up in a safe deposit box at the bank for fear that there would be a break in and everything taken with very, very slim chances of recovery or replacement, so what to do, Should I give up collecting, sell my collection that took me years to accumulate, drop out of the local coin club, resign from membership in ANA, or find another hobby. Just by luck I found amongst my things an elongate from the 1939 World's Fair, that I had gotten when a youngster I attended that year. This brought some very memorable times back to me and resulted in my getting "hooked" on elongates. I started to collect them and then wanted to become a roller but with an idea to make it a learning experience as well as a collecting experience for all the already collectors as well as the newly found collectors. Thus was the birth of my Elong-coin-cards.<sup>TM</sup> Now as I read so often in the coin papers, letters to the editor, how fed up so many collectors are with the absurd grading procedures, the investor market and the hype of so many coins by some dealers. I feel now is the time for elongates to take there rightful place in numismatics and not be considered "junk". More and more I see elongates and articles about them in the coin papers and I say, THE MORE THE MERRIER.

1987 CALENDAR COIN

Last Year I engraved a die for my first oversize Calendar Coin. I rolled 50 Quarters and punched numbers on one end so as to have a limited issue. I have done the same thing again this year. Picture of the Calendar is at the top of this article and again I have rolled 50 1986 Quarters with the 1987 Calendar. Numbered them from one thru fifty. Anyone wanting to add one to your collection may do so by sending $3.00 and I will send your coin along with a list of other items I have available. Anyone who ordered last year and would like the same number please order early. I will send orders as I receive them so can't promise numbers if your orders are late. Thanks you for past orders. Frank Brazzell, 53 So. 20th. St. Terre Haute, IN. 47803 Hope you had a nice Holiday, Happy New Year.

TO EACH HIS OWN

While it is true that I hold no animosity towards collectors of hobby pursuits other than mine of elongated coins, I must say here, that I may not fully understand and/or appreciate their multitude of varied interests. The one that is starting to gripe me a little, is the dearth of wooden nickels seemingly flooding the market, and this not being the wood collector's fault in any way. It seems that many Coin Clubs, Coin Shows, various storecards, and miscellaneous organizations, have turned to wood or plastic for their issues. It must be, obviously, in the pricing of same, as the message is gotten across, though perhaps not with the permanent retentive features of an elongated coin issue. Therefore, I feel our current rollers and die engravers of elongated coins, must of necessity re-examine their pricing and profit-margin structure. I do know that they make little enough profit on a given order or issue, but there has got to be a way to stay competitive, and still provide a good service to the public at large, and to continue to maintain the elongated coin collector's interest.

Let's see your comments and/or suggestions via a T.E.C. News story.

The Strategic Petroleum Reserve

by: Don A. Wilkinson
TEC No. 1079

In the last issue of the TEC News I had a piece on the Strategic Petroleum Reserve (SPR) achieving 500 million barrels of crude oil in storage. This article is about the SPR and President Ford.

The SPR was authorized during the Ford Administration when President Ford came to the DOE terminal on the Mississippi River at St. James, Louisiana on April 5, 1982 as the Senior official witnessing the arrival of the 250th million barrel of oil into the reserve. A little known antidote is that when President Ford was speaking at the dockside ceremony, a seagull got him on his shirt!

At any rate, I sent him a pair of the SPR elongated coins and received in return a very warm acknowledgment. If space permits, perhaps this correspondence can be reproduced in this TEC news letter.

I wonder if it wouldn't be interesting and appropriate for President Ford if we as an organization would make a display of elongated coins that show or refer to our former President? There are elongated coins on Ford-Dole; WIN; Inaugurated - Not Elected; Pardoned Nixon; Inaugurated August 9, 1984; Keep a Ford in the White House; Ford 38th President, that I am aware of - there must be others as well. Perhaps President Ford would put our display in the Ford Museum.

President Gerald R. Ford
Palm Springs, California 92263

Dear President Ford:

The purpose of this note is to inform you that the Strategic Petroleum Reserve (SPR), which was formed during your term as President, has now achieved the significant milestone of 500 million barrels (MMB) of crude oil in SPR storage.

We achieved the 500 MMB mark on June 1, 1986 and since that time we have continued to fill to the point where as of this moment, we have over 506 MMB. In commemoration of the 500 MMB achievement, I conceptually designed and had two commemorative elongated coins rolled. The coins have been made available to the SPR workforce.

Enclosed are a pair of these elongated coins along with a "certificate" which outlines the purpose of the SPR and heralds the fact we have reached the 500 MMB milestone. I want you to have these coins as a token of appreciation and as a memento of our progress.

You should remember the time we reached the 250 MMB mark. This occurred on April 5, 1982 at the Department of Energy terminal in St. James, Louisiana. You were the honored guest at this ceremony and will certainly recall those pestly seagulls.

I hope this note finds you and Betty in good health and continuing to enjoy your semi-retirement.

Very sincerely yours,

GERALD R. FORD

November 7, 1986

Dear Mr. Wilkinson:

Congratulations on the Strategic Petroleum Reserve achieving the milestone of 500 million barrels of crude oil in storage. I deeply appreciate the commemorative coins in recognition of this significant accomplishment.

Strategic Petroleum Reserve, as you indicated, was initiated in my Administration. I am very proud that we had the foresight to undertake this critically important project. I also vividly recall my visit to the St. James terminal in April, 1982, and the warm welcome I received.

Again, my compliments to you and your associates.

Warmest, best wishes,

Modern Rarities-- They do Exist!! Frank Brazzell

Many modern Elongated Coins are made each year for people who order only 250 pieces from the die. Most rollers always roll a few extra pieces, 10, 25 or 30 for there own stock to use as samples to send out to show people there work. After about a year or so the steel roll that had 4 of these dies on it can be taken to a tool and die shop and be surfaced ground off and the steel roll can be re-used. Now it cost about $35.00 to have a new roll made to engrave 4 dies on. It cost only $5.00 to have one ground off to re-use. As you can see, it makes it economical to have the roll ground off and reused. In most cases an engraver and roller places 4 dies of the same type or style on a roll to use for orders. Many of these dies are now destroyed and less than 300 coins have been rolled. Most of the time these coins are sent into one area and do not get sent out over a wide area. The commercial rollers at Fairs or Festivals or tourist areas have people from many different towns or states that may buy one of there coins and they are taken all over the country. These coins are usually made in large quantities and will always be available. However in years to come, these small issues of less than 300 coins will be "Modern Rarities".

Anyone out there who makes a "New Issue" Elongated Coin, drop us a line and we will put it in the Newsletter. Thanks to Jack Rosenbluth of York, Pa. for sending the nice write up he and the White Rose Coin Club got in the York Daily Record paper. If you have anything like this to report, send it to the Editor. It shows that a lot of publicity is getting around about Elongated Coins. This can and should help the hobby. Keep it up!!
